SUNDT FOUNDATION ANNOUNCES BOARD ADDITIONS

TEMPE, Ariz. (August 28, 2019) – The Sundt Foundation has selected two new officers and added two new members to its board of directors. Stefanie Teller replaces Randy Rusing as President, and Joe Riccillo will assume Teller’s role of Vice President. Rick Buchanan and Jesse De Haro have been added as members to the Foundation’s board.

Teller, vice president and director of corporate communications, has been a member of the Foundation since she began at Sundt. This past year she served as Foundation vice president under Rusing and will assume the role of president as Rusing retires.

“I’m proud to have been a member of the Sundt Foundation since its inception and to have served on the Board of Directors in various positions,” said Rusing. “To me, working with the Foundation is an important part of our culture; it’s about caring for others, our purpose, and giving back to the communities where we live and work. It’s the essence of being a Sundt employee-owner.”

Riccillo, who serves as project director out of Sundt’s El Paso office, moves into the Foundation vice president position. He has been a part of the board for the past year and part of the Foundation since he started with Sundt over five years ago.

Buchanan, representing the Tucson giving area, is a pre-construction project manager in the Tucson office. De Haro, who is currently working in Arizona as a craft foreman for Sundt’s Transportation Group, will be representing the craft workforce.

The Sundt Foundation Board of Directors is composed of 12 employee-owners, four appointed by the company and eight elected by the membership. The board convenes quarterly to approve grants based on recommendations made by employee committees in each Sundt office.

Community service is one of Sundt's core values. The company's employee-owners are dedicated to ensuring the well-being of others, donating generously to charitable causes and volunteering thousands of hours each year to help various local organizations achieve their missions. For many employee-owners, the Sundt Foundation is the principal way by which they give back to the communities they call home.
